INCOMING CREDIT

The University accepts incoming credit toward a student's first undergraduate degree program. Not only is relevant academic credit considered, but the University recognizes that individuals learn on their own or through their work as well. Thus, incoming credit may be considered for life and work experience. If you are applying for incoming credit for life and work experience, please submit your portfolio for incoming credit with your application.

ESSAY

Your essay, along with your completed application, is an opportunity for the University to assist you in the process of designing your program and educational goals to best fit your individual needs. Because the programs offered require the student to work more independently, communication and writing skills are emphasized. Your essay will be an important tool for the admissions committee to identify areas of strength as well as areas where added focus and attention would improve your academic and professional career. Please address, but don't limit yourself to, the following areas in your essay. It should be no more than two or three pages, double spaced, typed or word processed pages.

1. Reflect upon your personal and professional history. How has this influenced your growth and contributed to your decision to seek admission to the University of Natural Medicine and to the program(s) of your choice?

2. Your most valuable asset is your unique life experience. Our programs are designed to help you to build upon your experience and special talents. Above all, we value your special individuality and ability to reflect upon your own life and learning. What have been your most valuable learning experiences and how do you incorporate these experiences into your life?

3. How do you view yourself and what do you value most about yourself? What are the challenges you might face in order to successfully complete your course of study? What are your goals, dreams, and visions for the future and what do you plan to do with the degree or diploma you seek from the University?

I CERTIFY THAT THE INFORMATION ON THIS APPLICATION IS COMPLETE AND ACCURATE. I UNDERSTAND THAT ANY MISREPRESENTATION MAY BE CAUSE FOR REJECTION OR SUBSEQUENT DISMISSAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF NATURAL MEDICINE. APPLICATION MATERIALS BECOME THE PERMANENT PROPERTY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NATURAL MEDICINE. I ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE APPLICATION FEE IS NON-REFUNDABLE.
